

RISE DEVELOPMENT ACADEMY IDENTIFICATION SESSIONS

What is the Development Academy Program?

The Development Academy (DA) is a nationwide youth development initiative organized by the U.S. Soccer Federation to enhance the development of the country's top players through high technical standards and a focus on meaningful competition. The DA provides education, resources and support to develop world-class players. The DA's programming philosophy is based on increased training and less total games that are more competitive. The DA consists of 150 total clubs located within 17 geographically based divisions. Each team plays home and away games against the other teams in teams their division, plus games against non-division opponents from across the country during the 10 month season.

The Academy values individual development of elite players over winning trophies and titles. The Academy sets the standard for elite environments for youth soccer clubs nationwide.

Rise Development Academy Identification Sessions

The Rise DA identification session(s) are designed to identify elite youth players who have the ability and desire to compete against the best youth players in the country.
